News

The SUSR Team are working with colleagues in the Information Commissioner's Office and legal firm Geldards to deliver a Lunch and Learn Seminar for Data Protection Officers across Health. The on-line seminar will explore the legal basis for sharing information for SUSR purposes, the common law duty of confidentiality and provide a Q&A session. Due to take place in July, the seminar will be recorded with a view to it being used as a take-away resource in the future.

Training

An animator has been commissioned to commence with delivery of a series of training videos to meet the needs of wider groups under the SUSR Learning and Development Framework, such as senior leaders and learning event attendees, as well as a broader “Awareness for All” resource.

Good Practice

Top tip - Reviewers are encouraged to use numbered paragraphs in their SUSR reports. This has been identified as good practice and hugely helpful during the pilot SUSRs.

Special Advisors

The Co-ordination Hub are working with NHS Executive to identify a pool of advisors who can assist in SUSRs involving complex mental health issues. The list of advisors will be attached to the Approved Chairs and Reviewers List and be available to Safeguarding Board Business Units.
